

Using limits and consequences

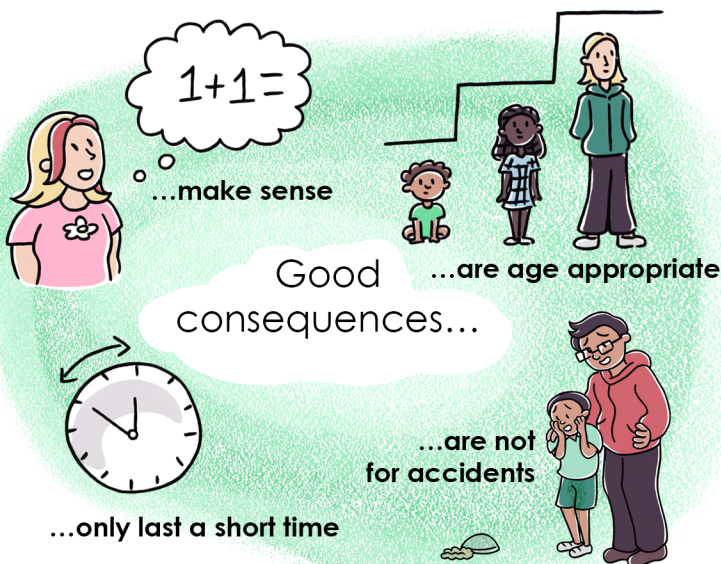

Setting clear limits and encouraging safe, kind and helpful behaviour can help your child learn and thrive.

Noticing safe, kind and helpful behaviours can make them happen more often.

Setting limits and knowing what to expect can also help.

www.raisingchildren.net.au

And talk to a trusted professional or high quality online resource if you need help.

Watch videos on this topic

Scan QR code

Click on arrow

Parenting Research Centre

Parenting Research Centre acknowledges the support of the Victorian Government